[H.R. 1385]

For the relief of Travis D. Jackson.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the United States hereby waives the liability of Travis D. Jackson of Wytheville, Virginia, who, on June 23, 1986, was an Assistant District Director of the Farmers' Home Administration, to repay the sum of $6,709.26, representing the amount advanced to him by the Farmers' Home Administration for temporary living expenses and later determined by the Comptroller General of the United States not to have been properly advanced to Travis D. Jackson under agricultural travel regulations applicable to employees of the Farmers' Home Administration.

SEC. 2. The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed to pay to Travis D. Jackson out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of any amounts received or withheld from Travis D. Jackson on account of the amount determined to have been improperly advanced to him as described in the first section of this Act.

SEC. 3. Not more than 10 percent of the sum appropriated in section 2 shall be paid to or received by any agent or attorney as consideration for any services rendered in connection with the sum so appropriated, any contract to the contrary notwithstanding. Violation of this section shall be deemed a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000.

Approved October 28, 1988.
